JOSHUA SINGH,
OWNER AND SALES MANAGER, INTERNATIONAL SALES

Joshua has been with 1423 from the start as he is one of the co-founders of 1423. His role in 1423 is sales manager, and he is taking care of all international sales. Joshua has a great knowledge within the rum world and he takes pride in travelling around the world representing 1423 and talk about rum. He is always ready with a little exciting story from one of his many travels to the Caribbean.

"Rum is not only my job, it is my hobby and life. I love the industry and the people. I have some great friends in the business. I do think, that one of our biggest achievements is still the creation of the Ron Esclavo brand. We released the first bottling in 2012, and today the brand consists of 4 different bottlings. This sweet profiled rum has been a great success, that has turned much more people in the Scandinavian countries into rum."

UNITED BY A PASSION FOR RUM

IT ALL STARTED IN 2008 WHEN THE FOUR FRIENDS JOSHUA, BINTU, GLENN AND PARMINDER WENT TO A WHISKY FAIR IN DENMARK. THEY ALL HAD A COMMON INTEREST IN WHISKY AND NOT QUITE AS BIG AN INTEREST IN RUM. BUT IT WAS GOING TO BE CHANGED THAT DAY WITHOUT NONE OF THEM KNOWING.

When Joshua, Bintu, Glenn og Parminder were about to leave the whisky fair, a distributor tempted them to taste some of his rum, and it caught their interest right away. Some time after the fair, Bintu asked Joshua and Glenn if they should make their own rum, simply import a cask with rum, bottle it, attach own label and sell it. Together they found a cask from Trinidad, and that was the beginning of 1423's adventure.

The Trinidad cask was bottled In November 2008, and the bottles was ready for release in the beginning of 2009. Shortly before release, Parminder joined the team. The boys held a release party for friends and family at Bar Rar in Odense. The first bottles were sold very quickly, and then the four friends thought long and hard. What shoud happen next? As time passed, they found producers around the world who believed in the small newly started danish rum distributor, 1423.

The first brand was Ron Centenario from Costa Rica and afterwards Bristol Spirits from United Kingdom. At the same time, 1423 continued with private label rum from countries like Panama and India. 1423's auditor, Thomas, had been a great help on the sideline for a long periode of time. In 2012 Thomas joined the small company, and 1423 became 1423 ApS.

Today there is the four owners Joshua, Glenn, Parminder and Thomas and eight employees in sales, marketing, accounts and warehouse. The name 1423 springs from the first rum back in 2008, and it is imprinted on most peoples mind. Besides producing their own rum and whisky and several private labels, 1423 sell more than 15 wellknown brands within rum, whisky, gin, vodka, liqueur and tonic/mixers. 1423's business is built on the principles that quality, price, service and hard work walk hand in hand, and the vision is to provide quality and world class spirit to all and for all.

1423 is the story about a small "hobby", which grow big. It is the story about four rum geeks, who are passionated, interested and curious, and it is the story about a little local business in Odense, Denmark, which goes the extra mile for a fine piece of craftsmanship.

RON ESCLAVO

FROM SLAVERY TO BRAVERY

The Slavery hangs like a dark cloud over the history of rum. For many years the two were inseparable. Not only was rum the drink of slaves, but it also became profitable for plantation owners to buy slaves from pirates to work on their sugar plantations, which first began when Christopher Columbus arrived in America.

Christopher Columbus brought sugarcane farmers on his ships from the Caribbean Islands. Here they established sugar plantations on the Hispanic Islands of Puerto Rico, Jamaica, and Cuba. Born out of the work of slaves, sugar became a profitable market. As a result of the mass production of sugar, there was confusion of what to do with all of the extra remaining sugar.

Sugar farming spread to the surrounding areas including Brazil, and the Portuguese in Brazil cracked the code when they began taking the juice from the sugarcanes and making a “rum-like” drink, which they would either pour on the slaves or sell to pirates. Years later the world’s first rum distillery opened in Barbados. All of the sudden, rum was not something that was poured on slaves anymore. Rum became a product that could be exported. England’s middle-class was one who took the importation of rum very well. The early rum was described as “strong and burning with an unpleasant odor,” and was given the name “Kill-Devil.” However, the quality increased after some time and the drink took on the English market. For a hundred years, the importation of Rum to England increased from 1000 liters to 9 million liters and an unaccounted amount was smuggled into the land through many pirates. At this point, rum had taken over the western world.

All of the sudden the status of rum was lifted, but this did not mean anything for the many slaves working in the plantations. Their slave labor was still a vital part to the production of rum until the late eighteen hundreds.

Some places were quicker than others to abolish slavery. Denmark and Norway were the first to abolish slavery in 1803, but the slaves remained slaves and their children were born into slavery. The British Islands abolished slavery in 1833, but it was only in 1848 that slavery was finally abolished on the Danish-West Indian Islands by general governor Peter von Scholten. He lived together on the islands with his free colored wife Anna Heegaard. It has been said she may have had an influence on the slavery abolition. In 1847 Peter Von Scholten was able to finally abolish slavery in its entirety where children born from slavery were to be treated as free and where slavery was completely put to an end to in the matter of 12 years.

BUT IT WASN'T GOING TO BE LIKE THAT...

Already a year later after the abolition, a slave revolt broke out and slave leader, John Gottlieb, also known as General Buddhoe, took control over the town Frederiksted on the island of St. Croix. Peter Von Scholten took the matter into his own hands. He went to Frederiksted and dealt with the slaves even though he did not have permission. He released many slaves which was a big disappointment to plantation owners and the government of the West Indies. As a result, Peter von Scholten had to leave the Danish West Indies in the dark of night.

Ron Esclavo, “Slaves rum”, is a celebration of not the rum that slaves drank, but for the slaves who paid a high price for the rum to be widespread during its first years and to the ones who travelled and fought against slavery. To them we raise our glass. Ron Esclavo, from slavery to bravery!

Ron Esclavo XO Cask
from 1423

World Class Spirits

Ron Esclavo is a series of Solera rum from The Dominican Republic blended by Oliver y Oliver in cooperation with 1423. The Solera Method is a process for aging spirits by which different ages are mixed through a pyramid system. By doing so, the finished product is a mixture of ages. The four Ron Esclavo are sweet, smooth and mild with hints of vanilla, caramel and oak after aging in American Oakwood barrels, and the bottle design is based on a simple and minimalistic Scandinavian style. The bronze colour is consistent in the first three products, Ron Esclavo 12, 15 and XO. Ron Esclavo Xo Cask on the other hand, comes in a stylish black stoneware bottle.

WHERE QUALITY AND EFFICIENCY IS THE TRADITION

“DEEP IN THE HEART OF LLUIDAS VALE SITS THE WORTHY PARK ESTATE. PROTECTED BY THE SURROUNDING MOUNTAIN RANGES AND ENCOMPASSED BY LUSH AND FERTILE TERRAIN; IN THE ACRES AND ACRES OF SUGAR CANE FIELDS IS WHERE IT ALL BEGINS.”

A VISIT TO WORTHY PARK

Worthy Park is nestled in the Vale of Lluidas, or Lluidas Vale as it is commonly known. When you are standing at Worthy Park, all you see is breathtaking valleys uniting the rolling mountain ranges that are standing guard over stalks of sugar cane swaying in the cool mountain breeze. A visit to Worthy Park is a trip back in time to the days of unspoiled landscapes and natural beauty that had given rise to Jamaica being known as the “Land of wood and water”. The Worthy Park Estate has remained this way since its inception in 1670 when it was gifted to Lt. Francis Price for his services to Cromwell during the English capture of the island from the Spanish in 1655.

ABOUT THE PRODUCTION

Worthy Park Estate is 100% Jamaican owned, and their rums are authentic and traditional Jamaican style. This is the true meaning of “from field to glass”. Worthy Park harvest their sugar cane, produce their own molasses and they distill, bottle and age; every step of the process happens at the Worthy Park Estate.

Commercial production of cane and sugar began in 1720 and has continued unabated until this day. Since then it has only been under ownership by three families and has been in the hands of the Clarke family since 1918. In that time Worthy Park has not only engaged in cane farming and sugar production, but the land has been used for beef cattle, citrus, poultry and other agricultural crops. However, approximately 40% of the over 10, 000 acres land is currently in sugar cultivation.

The sugar season in Jamaica lasts from January through the end of June. Since it is a 24-hour operation in season, the other months of the year are dedicated to a complete servicing of all of the equipment in the sugar factory. While the traditional, and preferred, method of harvesting cane is by hand, for the past 20 years Worthy Park has also used combine cane harvesters to assist in the daily supply of cane to the sugar factory.

WORTHY PARK MAKES A COMEBACK...

After being out of the distillation business for decades, the Clarke family decided in 2004 that there was room for another Jamaican rum, made with quality ingredients in a perfect contrast by distilling in the Traditional Jamaican Pot-Still method however with efficiency and state-of-the-art equipment helping us get there. In 2005, the newest distillery was complete, and by 2007 the flagship brand Rum-Bar Rum was launched!
