

PARAGUAY 2007

The Castilla's distillery was founded by the Diaz family in Piribebuy (Paraguay) in 1993. Through their name Fortin, meaning "little fort" in Spanish, the rums produced pay tribute to the heroic past of the city. Also known for its sensitivity to ecological issues, the distillery elaborates all these rums a 100% organic manufacturing process. For this, their 1,500 hectares of sugar cane are cultivated without treatment and the harvest is always done manually.
